

SPEAKING

Book Michael Shawn Keller for schools and workplaces.

Mike speaks in schools and workplaces about bullying — the kind we see, and the kind we carry. He is on the path to special education, and he still takes the mic: standing up, coming out, and treating people with dignity is learnable work, not a slogan.

What a visit can cover

Bullying that hides. The cartoon bully is easy. The one in a staff meeting, a locker room, or a family group chat is harder. Mike names it without theater.

Inner homophobia. Room 308 came from years of hiding. Students and adults hear what that costs — and what it looks like to stop.

Practical next steps. Drawn from Bullies Among Us: not a slogan, a challenge you can actually take on. Free bullying lesson if you want a taste first.
